Professor Jorge Luis Romeu

Dear Professor Romeu:

I am pleased to be able to inform you that the winners of the 2007 Thomas L. Saaty Prize for Applied Advances in the Mathematical and Management Sciences, and of the 2007 Jacob Wolfowitz Prize for Theoretical Advances in the Mathematical and Management Sciences, have now been selected. Those winners are:

2007 Thomas L. Saaty Prize to Professor Jorge Luis Romeu (of the Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, Syracuse University, New York, U.S.A.) for his paper "On Operations Research and Statistics Techniques: Keys to Quantitative Data Mining."

2007 Jacob Wolfowitz Prize to Professors Saralees Nadarajah (of the University of Manchester, United Kingdom) and Samuel Kotz (of The George Washington University, Washington, D.C.) for their paper "Exact Distribution of XY for the Elliptically Symmetric Pearson Type II Distribution."

Please accept my congratulations for your important contribution. Each Prize consists of a monetary award and an engraved certificate. If you will email me your preferred mailing address these will be sent as soon as the engraving process is complete.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Edward J. Dudewicz, Editor-in-Chief
