Textbooks: French Cinema: From Its Beginnings to the Present (Remi Fournier Lanzoni)
Les films seront les textes essentiels pour le cours. Revisionnez-les !

Course Description:

FRE 425: History of French Cinema from its beginnings through the present. Selected readings, study of film techniques, and an analysis of a wide variety of films. Prerequisite FRE 315, 316, or 311.

GE 8:

FRE 425 meets the requirement for GE 8: The Arts.

The goal of this category is to help students develop an awareness of the arts as a system of inquiry in which aesthetic elements are involved. Courses in this category will help students understand the creative process, be broadly based within or among the areas of the arts and provide this breadth through an historical approach or participation in the creative process. Students will explore the idea that important learning experiences can take place through the use of senses and imagination.

Learning Outcomes

Students will demonstrate an understanding of

1. at least one principal form of artistic expression and the creative process inherent therein;
2. the significance of artistic expression in past and/or present civilizations.

Attendance:

Courses in French at SUNY Cortland serve not only to provide exposure to the course content but also to help students achieve communicative goals through active participation. For this reason attendance at class meetings is essential. Therefore, if you have more than 3 unexcused absences by the end of the semester your grade will be lowered by 5/100 for each additional absence. (Only serious illnesses and problems at home, religious holidays and sports competitions are considered excused absences. A doctor's note will be required.) It is to your advantage to inform me before any class which you must miss. Contact Modern Languages or my office. Work missed whether from an excused or unexcused absence must still be completed, and it is the student's responsibility to see that this is done quickly.

Evaluation:

Papers (3 papers, 5 pages ea.)	40%
Homework - preparation	10%
Class presentations	10%
Mid-term	20%
Final Exam	20%

A scale of 0-100 will be used as follow: A+ 97 - 100

A	93	-	96
A-	90	-	92
B+	87	-	89
B	83	-	86 etc...

In this course in French cinema we will explore the history of cinema in France through study of a number of important and popular French films. It will be essential that you PREPARE by viewing films outside of class. Viewing a film once is not the same as studying it. Expect to rescreen the films and take notes as you watch. Film is a language, and there is a language for talking about film. By the end of the course, you will find that you no longer see films or think about them the same way.

Tests:

All major tests will be announced. ABSENCE FROM TESTS WILL BE EXCUSED ONLY IN THE PRESENCE OF WRITTEN PROOF OF A VALID REASON FOR YOUR ABSENCE. UNEXCUSED ABSENCE CAN RESULT IN FAILURE IN THE COURSE. Notify me ahead of time when you know you must miss a test and make appropriate arrangements.

Papers:

Three 5-page minimum papers will be written for this class. This class is labeled as a WI class. In fact, all upper level language classes have always essentially more than met the WI requirements. We will address writing techniques in class (designing thesis statements, organizing outlines, composing paragraphs, vocabulary choices, sentence structure, and grammatical accuracy) and you will rewrite your first draft of all papers.

Online streaming: Films will be available online through the SUNY Cortland Library.

Class presentations: Students will present reports on particular themes, scenes or outside films as assigned.

Oral exam: A short oral exam will allow you to demonstrate your ability to talk about the films you have seen.

Goals and Objectives:

Cinema is considered the 7th art in France and is a central aspect of 20th century French culture. We will develop a good basic knowledge of French cinema and an ability to understand film, and to talk and write about it. Film is also closely related to the historical events of the period. Through cinema we will also come to a better understanding of 20th century France.
