

INDIRECT & DIRECT OBJECT PRONOUNS IN COMBINATION IN THE SAME SENTENCEIN THE PRESENT TENSE:

#1, #2, #3 : For each of the following question/response exchanges, part of the response is given in English. Translate the English part to Italian.

1) — Dove sono i miei libri?

— I tuoi libri? _____
"I am going to return them to you tomorrow."

2) — Vi spiega bene la grammatica la vostra professoressa?

— La grammatica? _____
"Yes, she explains it to us very well."

3) — Ai tuoi figli piace il racconto?

— Il racconto? _____
"Yes. I read it to them every night."

#4, #5, #6 : You are participating in a college internship abroad in Italy. You are working in a social service agency.

Answer the following questions your Italian co-worker asks you.

(You and your co-worker are on a familiar social basis.)

Answer each question using direct-object and indirect-object pronouns in combination.

4) Porti le lettere al direttore?

5) Quando ti posso dare questo lavoro? Quando avrai (will you have) tempo?

6) Quanti rapporti (reports) prepari per i signori?

IN THE PASSATO PROSSIMO:

#1, #2, #3 : For each of the following question/response exchanges, part of the response is given in English. Translate the English part to Italian.

1) — Dove sono i fiori per Giovanna?

— I fiori per Giovanna? _____
"I gave them to her already."

2) — Hai prestato la macchina a Franco?

— La macchina? _____
"Yes, I promised it to him last week."

3) — Quante cartoline hai inviato agli cugini in Italia?

— _____
"I sent three (of them) to them."

#4 & #5 : Answer each question using direct-object and indirect-object pronouns in combination.

4) Mi hai comprato i francobolli?

5) Hai dato le fettucine a mamma?
