Hello Lin Lin,

My name is Amy, and I took a class with you last semester for EDU 480. I am nearing the end of my student teaching experience, and currently reflecting on the last 16 weeks of teaching. While doing so I was looking over some lessons I had done with my first graders, and it brought to mind your wonderful class.

I just thought I would share with you that while I was teaching at Charles F Johnson in Endicott I had the opportunity to teach social studies for a week. This week happened to fall in the month of March, so I decided to do a unit that you had us do in your class, "women in history". This was a lot of fun to do, and the students learned about several neat ladies including Betsy Ross, Sally Ride, and Dian Fossey just to name a few. I also created a time-line for the students which we discussed, and was able to tie in with math and the number line.

I just wanted to take a second to thank you for covering so many wonderful topics and ideas in your class, and also for having us do these activities to prepare us for a classroom of our own. I am very glad to have had the opportunity to take a social studies class with you. Have a wonderful summer!

Sincerely,
Amy
