Hi Lin Lin,

I just wanted to take the chance to thank you for a wonderful fall semester. Your class was one of the most challenging yet rewarding classes for me. I was able to learn so much about teaching, lesson and unit planning, as well as what it means to teach social studies in an elementary setting. I recently took a visit to New York City to check out where I will be student teaching next semester. I was able to meet with a Cortland student and walk through her housing, which was very helpful for me in my preparation! Anyway, while I was there I took the time to go to Battery Park and look at the statue you taught us about a few weeks ago. I was able to explain its importance and significance to the people I was with, and was sure to snap a picture of me there. Anyway, I thought you might enjoy that!

Thanks again for everything,

Victoria
