Course Description:

Themes as basis for study of several works or authors, e.g., women, love, society, revolution. For students with knowledge of French, although subject may be comparative in nature if indicated by subtitle. May be repeated as subtitle changes.
Prerequisite: FRE 311, 315 or 316. (3 cr hrs) Fulfills: LASR, WI.

Romanticism, Realism, Symbolism subtopic:

We will explore how changing ideas about the nature of the world and of mankind led through three major approaches to writing literature in the 19th century: Romanticism, Realism, and Symbolism. An examination of a few major works of poetry, drama, and prose will help us see how these related concepts evolved and were reflected in other art forms of the period such as painting and music.

Évaluation:

Presentations	20% (4 short in-class presentations)
Papers	40% (three 5-page papers; 1 st draft will be revised)
HW	10% (short written)
Final Exam	30%

Objectives:

Students will develop an understanding of the major ideas underpinning the romantic, realist, and symbolist movements and be able to recognize and explain their elements in the works, literary and other art forms, that they read. They will learn that a work may be shaped by its historical environment as it in turn seeks to effect change in that environment.

Attendance:

Courses in French at SUNY Cortland serve no only to provide exposure to the course content but also to help students achieve communicative goals through active participation. For this reason, attendance at class meetings is essential. Therefore, if you have more than 1 unexcused absence by the end of the semester your grade will be lowered by 5/100 for each additional absence. (Only serious illnesses and problems at home, religious holidays and sports competitions are considered excused absences. A doctor's note will be required.) It is to your advantage to inform me before any class which you must miss. Contact ICC or my office. Work missed whether from an excused or unexcused absence must still be completed, and it is the student's responsibility to see that this is done quickly.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY - from college handbook:340.01 ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

... It is . . . the professional responsibility of all faculty to explain the importance of honesty and respect for knowledge in order to ensure an academic environment that encourages integrity. . . . it is the responsibility of students to protect their own work from inappropriate use by others . . .

340.02 ACADEMIC DISHONESTY -- 1. Plagiarism

Each student is expected to present his or her own work. All papers, examinations, and other assignments must be original or explicit acknowledgment must be given for the use of other persons' ideas or language . . .

340.03 PROCEDURES FOR HANDLING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

- (1) The person reporting an instance of alleged academic dishonesty shall complete and forward to the Office of Judicial Affairs the Disclosure and Notification of an Academic Dishonesty Charge form.

. . . If the filer of the notification form is a faculty member, whenever possible she/he shall discuss the incident with the student prior to forwarding the form to the Office of Judicial Affairs.

FRE 423 and the Conceptual Framework:

This course, as is the case with all of our offerings in the Modern Languages Department, is rooted in the ideals of liberal learning. The underlying ideal in all of our classes, whether they be literature-, culture-, or language-based, is that all three of these elements are interwoven. The specific knowledge and perspectives that will be acquired in this class reflect SUNY Cortland's commitment to instilling in our students an acumen for themes and issues pertaining to Global Understanding (knowledge of the interconnectedness of the natural and human experience through exposure to the political, social, economic and religious differences of the target language's literature and civilization) and Social Justice (comparison and contrast of issues of social justice, equality, and democracy between our society and those of the target language).
