

Not Yours, Not Mine, but Ours: Sharing Responsibility for All Learners

Date: Monday, September 28, 2009 (other dates are listed below)

Location: Parker School Library

Time: 4:00 - 5:30 PM

Grade Level: K-6

Facilitators: Dr. Kimberly Rombach and Dr. David Smukler

Both facilitators have many years' experience working in elementary inclusive classrooms and are currently assistant professors at SUNY Cortland. Kim works in the Department of Childhood/ Early Childhood Education and David works in the Department of Foundations and Social Advocacy.

This meeting marks the first date of 5 round-table workshops that are intended to provide teachers with time to learn and share effective strategies for successful co-teaching in inclusive classrooms.

Round-table Dates and Topics

September 28	Co-teaching models
October 5	Responding to Complex Behavior
October 26	Differentiated Instructional Strategies
November 16	Involving Families and Community Members
December 7	Assessment in Classrooms with Diverse Learners

The demographic landscape in elementary classrooms has changed considerably throughout the past decade and there have been substantial efforts to educate students with disabilities within general education classrooms. This workshop series provides teachers with opportunities to network with other elementary classroom teachers to learn new ideas about ways to teach students with and without disabilities together. Teachers can attend one, a few or all meetings that are part of this round table series.
